

|                                                            | What do                                                                                                                                                                                           | es geometry reveal about God? | God is revealed as the Master Designer when geometry is used as a means of describing the attributes of the physical world. |                                                                                      |                                         |  |
|------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------|--|
| 5                                                          | Graph points in the first quadrant of the coordinate plane to solve problems (5.G.1,2)   Classify two-dimensional figures into categories based on their pro (5.G.3,4)                            |                               |                                                                                                                             |                                                                                      | 9.2, 9.3, 9.411.1, 11.2, 11.3, 11.4 |  |
| How can we quanitfy our findings in a way that pleases God |                                                                                                                                                                                                   |                               | God has at various t                                                                                                        | God has at various times commanded men to count, measure, and record their findings. |                                         |  |
| 5                                                          | Use basic operations to solve problems using a line plot to display a fractions of a unit (halves, fourths, and eighths) (5.MD.2)Find the mean, median, mode and range of a given set of data |                               | data set of measurement in                                                                                                  |                                                                                      | 9.1                                     |  |